

Helping Architects, Engineers, & Consultants Specify Jeron's Pro-Alert™ 480 Area of Rescue

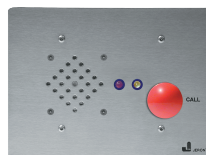

Jeron Electronic Systems, Inc. understands that Design, Consultants, & Planners are dealing with hundreds of products and issues simultaneously. That's why Jeron Electronic Systems, Inc. wants to make specifying Area of Rescue Systems simple. Pro-Alert 480 provides critical communication solutions in emergency situations. Areas of Rescue are typically located in stairwells and other designated refuge in parking structures, industrial/commercial building and residential high-rises.

• JERON'S A&E TOOLKIT:

Getting to know our Emergency Communications Systems starts with product datasheets, specifications, and design guides to jump start your ARA projects. Jeron A&E Toolkits are easy to obtain, just contact us and we'll send as many as you need to your office.

• NO COST, VALUE ADDED SERVICES FOR A&E FIRMS:

- Coordination of Specification
- System Layouts
- Budget Development
- Code Compliance
- Systems Applications
- Project Management Services
- Engineering Assistance
- Product Samples
- Wiring Schematics
- Consultation & Support

Supporting You and Our Mutual Customers

Tap into Jeron's industry experience and communications experts. We can help you specify our Area of Rescue Systems no matter what city, state, or code. We comply and help fulfill the guidelines that are defined by the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA.)

Send an email today: sales@jeron.com or call 800.621.1903 to request your A&E TOOLKIT.